

Compliance with the numerous rules and regulations surrounding collegiate athletics is a challenging task. Essential risk management elements include developing an effective process to identify the core processes and risks, prioritizing those risks, establishing ensuring effective controls are operating, and developing an education plan.

Expected outcomes of the session include U. T. Austin's:

- Evolution of compliance organization and structure
- Implementation of the concept
- Vision for the future / Emerging trends and issues

Institutional Risk Management - Athletics

June 30, 2010

9:30am - 10:30am CST

Who Should Attend:

- Compliance Officers
- Athletics Department
- Internal Audit
- Risk Managers

About the Presenters:

Amy Folan, Associate Athletics Director for Compliance, University of Texas at Austin

Ms. Folan is in her eighth year as the associate athletics director for compliance at the University of Texas. Prior to joining the Longhorns, she worked in membership services at the NCAA (1999-2002) and served as the assistant director for compliance at the University of Georgia (1997-1999). She is currently the President of the National Association for Athletics Compliance and holds a master's degree in sports management from Georgia and a bachelor's degree in communication sciences from Connecticut.

Rudy Green, Director of University Compliance Services, University of Texas at Austin

Mr. Green is in his fourth year as Director of University Compliance Services at U. T. Austin. He received his bachelor of science degree in administrative sciences from Yale University and his law and master of business administration degrees from The University of Texas at Austin.

The UT Systemwide Compliance Academy is a service for UT personnel only.
For more information regarding the UT Systemwide Compliance Academy, please visit
<http://www.utsystem.edu/compliance/SWCAcademy.html>

