U. T. System Debt Programs

- The U. T. System can issue debt under three programs:

 - Permanent University Fund (“PUF”)
 - Higher Education Assistance Fund (“HEAF”)

- Tuition Revenue Bonds (“TRBs”) are issued under the RFS program, but are secured by the same legal pledge.

Revenue Financing System

- The Revenue Financing System (RFS) is a cost-effective debt program secured by a system-wide pledge of all legally available revenues for debt issued on behalf of all 15 institutions and System Administration.
- Long-term RFS debt is currently rated Aaa, AAA, and AAA by Moody's, Standard & Poor's, and Fitch, respectively.
- Short-term RFS debt is currently rated P-1/Aaa/VMIG1, A-1+/A-1+, and F-1+/F1+ by Moody's, Standard & Poor's, and Fitch, respectively.
- As of August 31, 2009, there is $4.76 billion of RFS debt outstanding, including $976 million of TRB debt outstanding.

Revenue Financing System (cont'd.)

- The Master Resolution establishing the Revenue Financing System requires that before any RFS debt is issued, the Board of Regents (Board) make a determination that:
 - The Board will have sufficient “Pledged Revenues” to meet all financial obligations relating to the Revenue Financing System, and;
 - The Members (i.e., institutions) on whose behalf the debt is issued possess the financial capacity to satisfy their direct obligations.

Tuition Revenue Bonds

- Tuition revenue bonds (TRBs) are specifically authorized by the Legislature under Chapter 55 of the Education Code.
- TRBs are issued under the RFS program and are secured by the same pledge of all legally available revenues of the System; however, the expectation is that the State will reimburse TRB debt service with general revenue.
- Despite the name, TRB debt service is not paid from tuition and fees. In fact, an institution need not have tuition to receive TRB proceeds.

Tuition Revenue Bonds (cont'd.)

- While not a legal obligation, the State has been reimbursing TRB debt service since 1971.
- TRBs are generally structured with level debt service over 20 years. The U. T. System bears the risk of repayment if the state does not honor its obligation to appropriate sufficient debt service each biennium.
- TRBs are a significant source of capital funding for core projects such as classrooms and research facilities; however, TRBs are dilutive to the System's overall credit ratios.

Permanent University Fund Debt

- The Permanent University Fund (PUF) debt program is used to fund E&G projects at 13 of the 15 System institutions plus System Administration. PUF debt is secured by distributions from the PUF to the Available University Fund (AUF).
- Long-term PUF debt is currently rated Aaa, AAA, and AAA by Moody's, Standard & Poor's, and Fitch, respectively.
- Short-term PUF debt is currently rated P-1/AAA/VMIG1, AAA/A-1+, and AAA/F1+ by Moody's, Standard & Poor's, and Fitch, respectively.
- As of August 31, 2009, there was $1.52 billion of PUF debt outstanding.

Permanent University Fund Debt (cont'd.)

- The amount of PUF debt that can be issued by the Board of Regents is limited by the Texas Constitution to 20% of the book value of the PUF, or approximately $1.90 billion as of 8/31/09.
- The amount of tax-exempt debt that can be issued by the TAMU System is limited to 10% of the book value of the PUF.
- The Board's AUF Spending Policy guidelines also require that:
 - PUF debt service coverage must not be less than 1.5 times
 - Forecasted end-of-year AUF balances must not be less than $30 million.
