

Update – October 8, 2008

Monday through Friday, November 3 through 7, 2008, LCRA Headquarters, 3700 Lake Austin Blvd.; View The Invitation! The master planning team will be working at the LCRA Colorado Room (formerly Lakeview Lodge) and hosting public presentations at the LCRA Hancock Building Board Room during this week. At the various public events, the team will present analysis findings and draft design principles, engage the public in an exploration of potential development scenarios for the Brackenridge Tract, and refine development scenario diagrams for discussion. Public events will be held on Monday evening, Wednesday morning and evening, and on Friday evening. Refer to the Invitation for the details of each event. In addition to those four public events, the team invites interested parties to visit a viewing gallery at the LCRA Colorado Room to see ongoing and progress work at specific times each of the five days at the time and dates shown on the Invitation. A Brackenridge Tract master planning team member will greet all visitors. Gallery hours are noted in the Invitation.
