* Amount does not match institution's proposal - Fall 2013 adjusted to be consistent with Association of American Medical Colleges data  Figures do not reflect proposed increases in course fees  The Fall 2014 increase would apply to all students enrolled in the Doctor of Dental Surgery Professional (DDS) Program. * Amount differs from institution's proposal to reflect proposed student services fee increases. 99% of biomedical sciences school students receive funding support from faculty research grants to cover tuition and fee costs. This support comes in the form of a graduate research assistantship and/or a clinical fellow/faculty position. Therefore, increases in tuition and fees will impact about 1% of students.
